You know you are from
New Mexico
when...

- Your favorite restaurant has a chile list instead of a wine list.
- You do all your shopping and banking at a drive-up window.
- You hated Texans until the Californians moved in.
- You price-shop for tortillas.
- You think Sadies was better when it was in the bowling alley.
- You can't control your car on wet pavement.
- You just got your fifth DWI and got elected to the state legislature in the same week.
- You iron your jeans to "dress up"
- Two of your cousins are in Santa Fe, one in the legislature and the other in the state pen.
- You have driven to an Indian Casino at 3am because you were hungry.
- You're relieved when the pavement ends because the dirt road has fewer pot-holes.
- You can order your Big Mac with green chile.
- You associate bridges with mud, not water.
- A package of white flour tortillas is the exact same thing as a loaf of bread. You don't need to write it on your shopping list; it's a given.

Cimarron was once known as the "Cowboy capital of the world".
Some of the old west's most famous names, such as Kit Carson and "Buffalo Bill" Cody lived there. A quote from the Las Vegas Gazette illustrates how lawless Cimarron was.
"Everything is quiet in Cimarron.
Nobody has been killed in 3 days."

In 1930 the father of modern rocketry, Massachusetts scientist Robert Goddard whom some called a crackpot, came to New Mexico to test rocket-ship models. From those humble beginnings the aerospace industry became one of New Mexico's leading industries.

You don't need a driver's license to compete in NASCAR.
Technically, a state's driver's license is not needed to compete in NASCAR. Even drivers who have had their actual driver licenses suspended for everything from reckless driving to DUIs were still able to race in NASCAR.

Grief is not a disorder, a disease
or a sign of weakness.
It is an emotional,
physical and spiritual
necessity, the price
you pay for love.
The only cure for grief is to grieve.
